

THE ART OF FEEDBACK

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zrOcvElfc98>

Here's a 10-question multiple choice quiz based on the YouTube video about "The Art of Feedback":

1. What does the video compare giving only "good job" feedback to?
  - a) A chef using only pepper
  - b) A chef using only salt
  - c) A chef using only sugar
  - d) A chef using only spices

2. When should you give immediate feedback for language errors?
  - a) When a student gives a long presentation
  - b) When a student makes a minor grammatical error in conversation
  - c) When a student is struggling with pronunciation
  - d) When a student is writing an essay

3. What is the recommended structure for giving feedback?
  - a) Criticism - Suggestion - Praise
  - b) Praise - Criticism - Praise
  - c) Suggestion - Praise - Suggestion
  - d) Praise - Suggestion - Praise

4. According to the video, what can happen if you never give useful feedback?
  - a) Students will become overconfident

- b) Students will learn faster
  - c) Students may experience confusion and frustration
  - d) Students will prefer this teaching style
5. What does the video suggest about correcting every tiny mistake while students are talking?
- a) It's the best way to improve their language skills
  - b) It should be avoided
  - c) It depends on the student's level
  - d) It's only appropriate for advanced learners
6. How does the video describe effective feedback?
- a) Vague and general
  - b) Only positive
  - c) Only negative
  - d) Clear and helpful
7. What type of feedback does the video recommend when a student has just given a long, heartfelt presentation?
- a) Immediate feedback during the presentation
  - b) No feedback at all
  - c) Feedback after the presentation is finished
  - d) Written feedback only
8. Which of the following is NOT mentioned as a consequence of never giving useful feedback?
- a) Confusion
  - b) Frustration
  - c) Students questioning their life choices

d) Improved self-esteem

9. What does the video suggest about the timing of feedback?

a) Always give it immediately

b) Always wait until later

c) It depends on the situation

d) Timing doesn't matter

10. How does the video describe the balance between positive and negative feedback?

a) Only give positive feedback

b) Only give negative feedback

c) Give more negative than positive feedback

d) Include both positive feedback and suggestions for improvement