

A quiz about the YouTube video on handling lesson plan failures, with a combination of multiple choice, true/false, and short answer questions. This quiz is designed for all ELT and non ELT, experienced and developing teaching methods.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=CfHrXkkcLJI>

1. Multiple Choice: What is the first step recommended when a lesson plan fails?
 - a) Panic and start over
 - b) Identify the problem
 - c) Immediately change the activity
 - d) Ask students for feedback

2. True/False: The video suggests that teaching is about following a script exactly as planned.

3. Short Answer: Explain the concept of "adapting on the spot" as mentioned in the video. Provide two examples of how a teacher might do this.

4. Multiple Choice: Which of the following is NOT mentioned as a possible reason for a lesson plan failing?
 - a) Too difficult
 - b) Too easy
 - c) Too confusing
 - d) Too time-consuming

5. True/False: The video recommends forcing a bad lesson plan to continue if it's not working.

6. Short Answer: Describe the analogy used in the video to illustrate why forcing a bad lesson plan is ineffective. What point does this analogy make?

7. Multiple Choice: According to the video, what should be the main focus when adjusting a failing lesson plan?

- a) Completing all planned activities
- b) Keeping students entertained
- c) Maintaining the learning goal
- d) Finishing on time

8. True/False: The video suggests that even the best teachers sometimes have lessons that don't go as planned.

9. Short Answer: The video states that "the best teachers aren't perfect, they are adaptive." Explain what this means and why adaptability is crucial in teaching.

10. Multiple Choice: Which of the following best describes the overall message of the video?

- a) Always have a backup lesson plan
- b) Perfection in teaching is achievable with enough planning
- c) Flexibility and adaptability are key to successful teaching
- d) Failed lessons are a sign of poor teaching skills